U.S. Real Estate Strategy Frequency Distribution of 3-Year Rolling Annualized* Gross and Net Excess Returns over the FTSE Nareit Equity REITs Index June 30, 1995 - June 30, 2019 (253 3-year Time Periods)

Disclosures:

*Source: CenterSquare, AUM based on fair value as of June 30, 2019 of client investments determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Fair value of public real estate and infrastructure securities are based on last sale prices listed on world wide established exchanges. Private equity AUM represents net equity investment values. Private equity values are generally derived based on discounted cash flows of underlying property investments.

*Represents gross sale prices of realized investments since inception and gross asset value of unrealized investments as of March 31, 2019.

*Gross and Net annualized CenterSquare Total Return Diversified (FTSE) Composite returns in excess of FTSE Nareit Equity REITs Index. CenterSquare Investment Management LLC (formerly CenterSquare Investment Management, Inc.) claims compliance with the Global Investment Performance Standards (GIPS). A current GIPS compliant presentation is available upon request. Past performance is not indicative of future returns.

The CenterSquare Total Return Diversified (FTSE) Composite ("Composite") strategy focuses on investing in a diversified portfolio of real estate securities, such as real estate investment trusts ("REITs") and real estate operating companies. The Composite includes all discretionary, fee paying portfolios invested in the U.S. Total Return Strategy (the "Strategy") that are using FTSE Nareit Equity REITs Index as their primary benchmark, and consisted of 42 accounts with a market value of $3,104 million as of December 31, 2018. Performance results are calculated on a total return basis and include dividends and interest and all realized and unrealized capital gains. Gross of fee returns include trade-related costs, but do not reflect investment management fees earned by CenterSquare. Net of fee returns reflect investment management fees earned by CenterSquare. The Composite returns consist of size-weighted portfolio returns using beginning of period values to weight portfolio returns, and valuations and returns are computed and stated in U.S. dollars. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Many factors affect performance, including changes in market conditions and interest rates, as well as the market's response to economic, political, and/or financial developments. The FTSE Nareit Equity REITs Index is a free float market capitalization-weighted index measuring equity tax-qualified real estate investments trusts which meet minimum size and liquidity criteria and are traded on the New York Stock Exchange, the American Stock Exchange, and the NASDAQ National Market System. The FTSE Nareit Equity REITs Index is part of the FTSE Nareit U.S. Real Estate Index Series. The index performance presented is based on total return calculations which add the income a stock's dividend provides to the performance of the index. This benchmark does not reflect investment management fees and is for illustrative purposes and should not be relied upon as an accurate measure of comparison. An investor should consider the investment objective, risks, charges and expenses carefully before investing in the strategy. General Real Estate Risks

Because the investment strategies concentrate their assets in the real estate industry, an investment is closely linked to the performance of the real estate markets. Investing in the equity securities of real estate companies entails certain risks and uncertainties. These companies experience the risks of investing in real estate directly. Real estate is a cyclical business, highly sensitive to general and local economic developments and characterized by intense competition and periodic overbuilding. Real estate income and values may also be greatly affected by demographic trends, such as population shifts or changing tastes and values. Companies in the real estate industry may be adversely affected by environmental conditions. Government actions, such as tax increases, zoning law changes or environmental regulations, may also have a major impact on real estate. Changing interest rates and credit quality requirements will also affect the cash flow of real estate companies and their ability to meet capital needs.

Definition of Indices:

FTSE Nareit Equity REITs Index

The FTSE Nareit U.S. Real Estate Index includes all tax-qualified real estate investment trusts ("REITs") that are listed on the New York Stock Exchange, the American Stock Exchange and the NASDAQ National Market List. The index constituents span the commercial real estate space across the US economy and provides investors with exposure to all investment and property sectors. The performance presented is based on total return calculations which adds the income a stock's dividend provides to the performance of the index, and is gross of investment management fees. Effective December 20, 2010 the ticker for the FTSE Nareit U.S. Real Estate Index changed from FNERTR (total return) to FNRETR (total return). The old ticker (FNERTR) has been reassigned to newly established FTSE Nareit All Equity REIT Index which is similar to the existing benchmark in all regards except that timber REITs will comprise approximately 7% of the new index and 0% in the FTSE Nareit Equity Real Estate Index.

This benchmark is a broad-based index which is used for illustrative purposes only and has been selected as it is well known and easily recognizable by investors. However, the investment activities and performance of an actual portfolio may be considerably more volatile than and have material differences from the performance of any of the referenced indices. Unlike this benchmark, the portfolios portrayed herein are actively managed. Furthermore, the portfolios invest in substantially fewer securities than the number of securities comprising this benchmark. There is no guarantee that any of the securities invested in by the portfolios comprise these benchmarks. Also, performance results for benchmarks may not reflect payment of investment management/incentive fees and other expenses. Because of these differences, benchmarks should not be relied upon as an accurate measure of comparison.
