INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The CenterSquare Global Real Estate Securities Strategy invests in a diversified portfolio of publicly traded real estate securities, such as Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs) and Real Estate Operating Companies (REOCs), and seeks to outperform the benchmark FTSE EPRA Nareit Developed Net Index on an annual basis.

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

Global real estate securities (such as REITs and REOCs) can play an integral role in a multi-asset class portfolio for both offensive and defensive reasons. Global real estate securities can offer international diversification, generate a relatively high level of current income and provide liquidity. They also can reduce volatility and provide low correlation with other asset classes as well as diversification across continents, countries, and sectors.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

CenterSquare’s strategy is to invest in a diversified portfolio of global real estate securities identified as undervalued vs. their peers to seek high, risk-adjusted returns for our clients. CenterSquare aims to uncover low-relative price opportunities across countries and sectors at different turning points in the real estate cycle by looking beyond the obvious factors of stock price and underlying real estate value. CenterSquare’s strategy recognizes that real estate securities are not simply stocks, or real estate, but hybrid financial investments. As such, they are valued on a number of factors, such as the value of the firm’s property portfolio, as well as critical business and market factors, including: the company’s capitalization, its position within public capital markets, and quality of its management team.

FUNDAMENTAL ANALYSIS

Based on industry-specific analyses that evaluate stock values as well as operational and qualitative factors such as management strength, asset quality and location and value creation strategies, CenterSquare constructs a portfolio of stocks that we believe offer the most promising total return potential. CenterSquare relies on our securities analysts and portfolio managers to generate investment ideas for the portfolio. Information from various global real estate brokers and service providers is used to supplement internally generated research. The portfolio is diversified across country and property type classifications. Stock weightings are determined through the use of a rigorous risk control process, which helps enable CenterSquare to maximize the portfolio’s risk adjusted total returns.

The Global Total Return Composite (the "Composite") focuses on investing in a diversified portfolio of real estate securities, such as real estate investment trusts ("REITs") and real estate operating companies. The Composite includes all discretionary, fee paying portfolios invested in the Global Total Return strategy. The strategy aims to maximize total returns from long term capital growth and income and consisted of 10 portfolios with a market value of $2,898 million at June 30, 2018. Performance results are calculated on a total return basis and include dividends and interest and unrealized capital gains and losses. Gross returns reflect the deduction of trade-related costs including applicable withholding taxes. Net of fee returns reflect trade-related costs including applicable withholding taxes and investment management fees earned by CenterSquare. The Composite returns consist of size-weighted portfolio returns using beginning of period values to weight portfolio returns. All of the Composite's valuations and returns are computed and stated in U.S. dollars. The index presented is the FTSE EPRA Nareit Developed Net Index. The FTSE EPRA Nareit Developed Index Series covers both the EPRA Nareit U.S. Real Estate Index and the EPRA Nareit Developed ex-U.S. Real Estate Index. Designed to track the performance of listed real estate companies and REITs worldwide, the series acts as a performance measure of the overall global market. The Net benchmark presented is calculated as a total return net of foreign withholding taxes on dividends from a U.S. investor perspective, and does not reflect investment management fees. The benchmark is for illustrative purposes and should not be relied upon as an accurate measure of comparison. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Many factors affect performance including changes in market conditions and interest rates and in response to other economic, political, or financial developments.
